

Hundreds Die In Lima Sports Stadium Riot

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A stampede of 45,000 spectators in a Lima sports stadium after police fired tear gas at rioting soccer fans left hundreds dead today in possibly the worst sports disaster in history.

Authorities still were unable to come up with an official fatality total in Sunday's tragedy. Lima's La Prensa said 260 bodies were counted. The newspaper Expresso said 315 were killed. Hundreds were injured.

Blame Gas For Rush

Many blamed the tear gas for the frantic rush to the exits, and a government statement, taking note of this, declared:

"I was necessary for the police to use tear gas in an attempt, however unfortunately futile, to prevent further disorder. The government is deeply concerned over the fatal results that originated in a trivial incident."

This was a reference to the fact that the riot erupted after a fan jumped from the grandstand to protest a referee's decision in the soccer game between Argentina and Peru. The teams were meeting for the right to play in the Tokyo Olympics.

The crowd had witnessed a close contest with neither side able to score in the early afternoon.

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final gun, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

Refused To Allow Score

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

Fans screamed in protest. The Peruvian players continued to play, although they also protested the decision.

The clock ticked on. Only moments were left when a spectator jumped out of the lower-priced seats and raced across the grass toward the referee.

Police cornered the fan and dragged him off. Other spec-

10 Are Injured In Accidents Over Weekend

New Springfield Youth Hit by Two Cars Near Home

A New Springfield youth, struck twice by cars as he was walking, and a Wellsville motorist who hit a bridge where a Lisbon school teacher was killed a half year ago were seriously hurt and nine others received assorted injuries in five of six weekend traffic mishaps.

Most seriously hurt were John Wilson, 20, of RD 1, New Springfield, struck Saturday night at 11:20 on Route 165 near his home, and Harry F. French, 59, of Commerce St., Wellsville, whose auto plowed into the bridge just south of Lisbon's corporation limits on Route 164.

Wilson, who was admitted to Youngstown South Side Hospital Sunday at 12:15 a.m. in a semi-conscious condition, suffered head injuries and a fractured right leg when two cars hit him.

The youth was walking south on Route 164, just south of Route 617 near New Springfield, when a car operated by Morris H. Bowers, 58, of Pittsburgh, heading north and in the act of passing an unknown car, hit him. Knocked to the pavement, Wilson was run over a second time by a car operated by Lawrence W. Geiger, 64, of New Springfield, who was following Bowers.

The Patrol did not hold either driver.

In Fair Condition

French, who suffered a dislocated left hip, broken nose and lacerations of the nose and right arm, is listed in fair condition in Salem City Hospital.

His 1958 Ford was demolished Sunday morning at 3:40 when it went off the right side of Route 164 by the concrete bridge south of Lisbon and struck the abutment, a utility pole and the Lisbon corporation limit sign in succession.

Last Nov. 15, George Alek, of Depot Rd., math instructor at Lincoln Junior High School in Lisbon, was killed and three other Lisbon teachers were hurt in a one-car crash in the same spot. Edwin (Bud) Bucher, Harry Riser and John Groves were the others injured as they came back from a mental health workshop in East Liverpool.

Crash Hurts Five

Five persons, including three from the county, were injured Saturday at 12:45 p.m. in a head-on crash of two cars on a hillcrest on the Winona-Bridge-water Rd., about three miles west of Winona.

The injured were: Earl Hardy, 71, of North Georgetown, broken left arm.

Joyce Hardy, 16, also of North Georgetown, body bruises and abrasions.

Judy Jackson, 15, of Canton, facial lacerations.

Mrs. Irene Barnes, 56, of 135 Sherman St., Lisbon, lacerations of right eye, possible broken collar bone and right leg, and contusions of both arms.

Leetonia Grandma to Get Diploma

Enrolled As Junior In High School In 1962

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

LEETONIA — Her gleaming white mortarboard sat at a somewhat rakish angle, accenting her graying hair. Adjusting her cap and gown as she stood in front of a mirror lined with photos of five children and nine grandchildren, Grandma Iklit was incredulous.

"It's happening, I know. But I just can't believe it," stressing "can't" in the manner of people who often find the most stark reality the hardest to comprehend.

She was talking about a momentous, impending event in her life — graduation from high school. The persevering woman, nearing the half-century mark, and whose life is devoted to helping others lead Christian lives, is as delighted at the prospect of receiving her diploma at Leetonia High School Tuesday night as a teen-ager going to her first prom.

"It's wonderful, absolutely wonderful!" she exclaims nervously, unable to hide the flight of butterflies somewhere inside.

When Dr. Paul Conrad, Board of Education president, hands over the grandmother's "sheepskin" tomorrow night, it will mark the climax of a dream Mrs. Iklit has harbored since she quit Greenford High at the end of her sophomore year 30 years ago.

And probably the most remarkable part of her long-time aspiration to graduate is the goal behind it. Most people who desire to go back and get their diploma do so for generally selfish reasons — to enhance their economic conditions, usually.

Mrs. Iklit's reason, on the contrary, is an unselfish one. "I want to help other people, especially young girls, and the education I've had over the past two years at Leetonia High will make me better equipped to do this," she says.

Her life is young people. She has been a Sunday School teacher for many years, instructs

Firemen From 5 Departments Answer Call

Patients Removed As Precaution; Lisbon Man Hurt

The large, main barn at the Columbiana County Home west of Lisbon burned to the ground in a spectacular blaze late this morning.

Fortunately, wind blew the flames away from the infirmary building where the aged residents are housed.

In a precautionary measure, however, all residents were evacuated from the building and taken to the laundry on the other side of the road. Mrs. Jane Jewell and other nurses remained with the bed patients at the Home hospital to calm them.

The roaring fire gave off an intense heat that could be felt many yards away.

A Lisbon fireman was injured at the scene. Jerry Sanders fell from the rear of a Lisbon fire department pumper and was knocked unconscious. Sheriff's deputies took him to a doctor.

Discovered at 11 a.m.

The fire was discovered at 11 a.m. by Ira Wilson, a resident at the home who ran to report it to Superintendent Russell Phillips. He immediately called the sheriff's department. At that time the fire was about the size of a bonfire in the granary part of the building. It soon roared out of control.

Firemen from five departments, Lisbon, Hanover, Winona-Butler, Center - Elkrum, Salem (Perry Township), responded to the alarm when it was felt that the infirmary itself might be endangered.

Because of regularly-conducted fire drills, County Home employees were able to drive cattle from the two-story barn into pasture.

No livestock was believed lost, but some machinery was destroyed. The flames damaged an adjacent metal silo which it was feared for a time might explode from the intense heat.

The firemen concentrated their efforts on saving adjacent

French Police Nab 3, Rescue Kidnap Victim

PARIS (AP)—Three men described by police as "little gangsters" are being held in the kidnapping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of a millionaire French warplane builder, who says she wasn't mistreated during 35 hours as a prisoner.

"The chief was charming with me," the 63-year-old Paris socialite said after two gendarmes stumbled onto the kidnappers' hideout Sunday. "But they were dangerous men."

Mrs. Dassault, who had belted one of the kidnappers in the stomach with her umbrella, said the men provided her with covers during a chilly night and brought her grilled steak and boiled potatoes when she complained of being hungry.

The three suspects, said by police to have been mixed up in prostitution and other underworld activities, were being questioned today.

A search continued for a fourth man.

Mrs. Dassault was freed when two village gendarmes, participating in a check of farms and summer cottages north of Paris shouted "Is anyone here?" outside an abandoned-looking farmhouse.

The broke in when a woman's voice replied, "Yes. Don't

Scooter Hit, Youth Killed

Alliance Motorist Held On 2 Counts

ALLIANCE — A car scooped up and impaled a motor scooter and its young owner on its front end in a head-on collision, smashing the boy and his vehicle against a power pole and killing him Saturday night at 11:25 at the intersection of Parkway Blvd. and State St.

The victim, who had bought the scooter from a friend less than 10 days ago, was James Specht, 16, of 845 S. Union Ave. He died at Alliance City Hospital of a compound fracture of the skull a short time after the accident.

The driver of the car that hit the scooter, Alfred M. Cook, 26, of 757 S. Morgan Ave., was held by police on charges of traffic manslaughter and using an improper traffic lane.

The traffic death was the city's first since Oct. 23, 1963, police said.

According to witnesses, Specht was sitting on his scooter in the left turn lane at the intersection, headed east and waiting for three westbound cars in the through lane.

Cook, westbound on State St., before the three cars got into motion came around the halted cars, through the intersection and hit the youth's motor scooter head-on.

The scooter tangled in the convertible's front end and was driven into the southwest corner of the intersection and into a power pole. Witnesses said the boy appeared to try to jump

New Orleans Pays Tribute To Morrison

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—This historic city paused in sorrow today to pay tribute to deLesseps S. Morrison, who achieved success in politics, diplomacy and soldiering.

His body, broken in a plane crash in Mexico's Tamaulipas Mountains last Friday, will lie in state for 24 hours in his old office in Gallier Hall—the former city hall where Morrison had served many of his 15 years as mayor.

Morrison, 52; his youngest son John Randolph, 7; and five other persons perished in the crash, which reportedly occurred during a blinding rainstorm.

An Air Force Albatross landed at nearby Alvin Callender Naval Air Station Sunday with the flag-draped coffins of the seven victims.

Morrison, who resigned a year ago as U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States to make his third try for governor, will be buried with full military honors. He was a major general in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Varying Interpretations Applied

Ike's Statement on Nominee Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gathered here today to complete arrangements for their 1964 convention and pondered whether a new statement by Dwight D. Eisenhower would influence that convention's choice of a presidential nominee.

The former president called Sunday for "responsible, forward looking Republicanism" and a candidate who would carry out that program. But he did not name any names, and he repeated that he does not intend to dictate the convention's choice of a nominee.

The convention arrangements committee's main job today was to pick a slate of officials acceptable to backers of all the major potential nominees.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, a moderate, and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, generally considered a liberal Republican, were the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairman respectively.

The position of keynote speaker was still up in the air.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman, has considerable backing for the job, but he said Sunday night that he does not want it.

There also were reports that Hatfield would be proposed for the dual role of temporary chairman, to open the convention, and keynote speaker, to deliver the quadrennial indictment of the opposition party.

Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an active candidate for the presidential nomination, indicated they would oppose such a move.

Many committee members were more interested in Eisenhower's statement in a copyright New York Herald Tribune story than in convention arrangements.

The big question was: Had the former president's statement helped or hurt the chances of any of the potential nominees?

Miller had no comment. Other party leaders who are not openly backing any of the candidates seemed to think Eisenhower had knitted a blanket big enough to cover all of them.

F. Clifton White, co-director of field operations for Goldwater, said "the general is just reiterating republican principles. I am sure the general is not

Rights Debate In 12th Week

Further 'Tinkering' With Bill Required

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate civil rights debate enters its 12th week today with leaders still trying to put across a package of amendments designed to pick up the wavering votes needed for passage.

They presented the package—prepared by Republican and Democratic civil rights forces in consultation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—at party caucuses last week and found further tinkering is needed.

Republican senators scheduled their fourth conference on the proposed amendments today. Their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he expects it to be the last.

Dirksen and assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said they

Court Orders Reopening of Public Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ordered Prince Edward County, Va., today to reopen its public schools on a desegregated basis by next September.

County education officials closed the schools in 1959 to avoid court-ordered admission of Negroes.

The Prince Edward racial controversy has been fought in state and federal courts since May, 1951. It was one of the original school desegregation cases decided by the Supreme Court on May 17, 1954.

Justice Hugo L. Black delivered the court's main opinion today.

Justices Tom C. Clark and John M. Harlan noted they agreed with the reasoning in Black's opinion, but disagreed with the holding that federal

Nikita Ends 17-Day Visit

Russia Lends Egypt Another $277 Million

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev ended a 17-day visit to Egypt today after warning up the farewell with a promise of a $277 million loan for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's second five-year plan.

In return, Nasser gave Khrushchev a wholehearted endorsement of Soviet foreign policy, including the Kremlin's views on peaceful coexistence.

A joint communique by the two leaders placed the Egyptians squarely behind the Soviets in the struggle between Peking and Moscow for influence in Africa's new nations.

Cheering workers, given a half holiday, jammed the airport for Khrushchev's departure, and upwards of 2,000 troops and security men were on hand. Nasser gave his guest a warm embrace. A 21-gun salute boomed out as the Soviet leader waved before entering his airliner.

Khrushchev's departure was delayed an hour and a half, but the reason was not announced.

The joint communique was made public after a final banquet Sunday night in the gardens of former King Farouk's luxurious Kubba Palace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had decided to help the United Arab Republic with its second economic plan, which begins next year.

He said the assistance would include a steel plant with an annual capacity of one million tons and a 10,000-acre model farm where Soviet techniques would be used to reclaim the desert. He left it to Nasser to tell the cheering crowd the amount of the aid.

Seventh Victim Claimed by Fire

75 Badly Burned In Church Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The victims were members of the city's Samoan community. Seventy-five other persons were badly burned and 12 were said to be still in critical condition today.

One of the three Samoan fire dancers who were performing when the fire broke out said a misunderstanding triggered the blaze and ensuing panic.

David Quiane, for five years a night club fire dancer, told newsmen he intended to borrow a book of matches to light the gasoline-soaked sword he whirled in his act.

A drummer in the band, he said, "whipped out a lighter and set the sword on fire," and a bowl of gasoline ignited with a roar.

Once the blaze had begun an unidentified man sprayed water into the gasoline, witnesses said. The blaze flared up. Members of the Samoan Catholic Benevolent Society rushed for a front exit.

William Murray, fire chief, said there would have been no disaster if the group hadn't panicked. Fleeing men and women, he said, clawed at one another savagely.

Charles R. Brock, 60, a member of the All Hallows Dads' Club, said he grabbed a fire hose from the wall. He, another man and a youth, he said, took the hose to within 15 feet of the fire, when whoosh!—all hell broke loose.

Goldwater Strength Faces Florida Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's strength among Florida Republicans will be tested Tuesday in a primary that highlights this week's political schedule.

However, much of the political interest is on a race that won't be decided until June 2: The Arizona senator's battle with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for California's 36 Republican convention votes.

Other events this week include Tuesday's runoff primary in Oklahoma and Saturday's primary in North Carolina, and a Republican convention in Mississippi, also Saturday.

The Republican National Convention arrangements committee meets here today to go over final plans and choose the three top convention officers.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon appear to be the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairmen. There is strong support for Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the party's national chairman, to deliver the keynote address.

The Florida GOP primary is to decide whether a slate of delegates pledged to Goldwater and endorsed by him, or an unpledged slate, most of whose members favor Goldwater, will cast the state's 34 convention votes.

Either way the senator is assured a good bloc of votes. He also is expected to pick up Mississippi's 13 votes at that state's GOP convention.

At the start of the week, The Associated Press survey of first ballot votes showed this lineup:

Barry Goldwater	304
William W. Scranton	70
Henry Cabot Lodge	44
Nelson W. Rockefeller	40
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	11
Favorite sons	103
Uncommitted	235

The Florida election also includes a Democratic gubernatorial runoff primary between Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, who led the field in the May 5 primary, and Mayor Robert King High of Miami.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Organ Transplants Successful

Many things once deemed impossible have come to pass. One of the most recent is the transplanting of vital organs from one being to another. Admittedly not an operation to be taken lightly, the success of such operations has been increasing since the first kidney transplant about 10 years ago. It is estimated that over 300 transplants of kidneys have been performed, and this appears to be the organ that can be transplanted with the greatest hope of success.

Because such transplants were usually rejected, they were first done only when the donor was an identical twin of the recipient. The tissue incompatibility between two persons, even though closely related, is caused by differences in blood types and tissue chemical patterns that are as distinctive as your personality or your fingerprints.

ANY FOREIGN TISSUE can...

Although a transplanted kidney admittedly does not work as well as one's own normal kidney it can literally snatch a man from the jaws of death from uremia. Some recipients have returned to work and, although they have to take several kinds of drugs and occasional blood transfusions, they otherwise live a fairly normal life.

LUNG AND LIVER transplants are being tried experimentally and transplants from higher apes to man have been performed with partial success. The latter procedure may be an answer to the donor problem and, as one wag put it, make monkeys of us yet.

Studying Ohio Speed Laws

Gov. Rhodes has promised a study to clear up the confusion that will grow out of an Ohio Supreme Court ruling that 35 miles an hour is legal speed on a through street even though it is classified as a 25-mile residential street. Traffic officials have asked for clarification.

While the study is in the works, it might go the whole distance and clear up for Ohioans what their state's speed-limit laws are all about.

There is an obvious connection between highly excessive speed and danger. And it is true that highly excessive speed is relative to the place where a vehicle is being operated. A car going 50 miles an hour on an expressway is being driven too slow. A car moving 35 miles an hour in a congested area on a through highway may be going too fast.

The need is for realistic definitions of speed.

When the speed limit on freeways outside municipal limits was raised to 70, some Ohioans deplored the increase, calling it too fast. But in fact 70 is not excessive on a well-designed freeway, where many vehicles consistently are driven faster than that in safety. And in fact Ohio now recognizes that too-slow driving is as serious a menace to safety in some circumstances as too-fast driving.

The residential limit of 25 may be realistic in some instances, but is absurd in general, because in today's urban sprawl a residential area may run on for great distances. In the same way, a 35-mile posted limit on a through highway becomes absurd if drivers consistently go faster than that.

The aim should be realistic speeds, completely removed from the outworn concepts of horse-and-buggy locomotion and the proverbial Sunday driver—realistic speeds and strong enforcement. It might be a good idea also to re-examine Ohio's prima facie speed limit law, which makes the motorist responsible for proving he was operating inside the limit, instead of making the police responsible for proving he was operating outside it.

If there's going to be an Ohio speed law review, it should review everything. Unrealistic speed limits that defy enforcement create an attitude of public disregard for all speed limits.

The Psychology Is Perfect

Fidel Castro may have Cuba sewed up so tight no rebel campaign can oust him. But if he does have it sewed up tighter than his predecessor had it sewed up, his chances are not good.

The rebel psychology of hinting at invasions to come and penetrations already carried out successfully is perfect.

This is a war of nerves, designed to give the Castro regime the jitters and ruffle the composure of all who have cast their lot with it. But it may do its greatest damage at another point.

It creates the thought that change is possible; that the Castro regime and Cuba's takeover by Communists is not going to be forever.

It is like the technique of spreading a rumor that a public official is going to resign. The possibility of his resignation frequently becomes the actuality, once the idea is planted that he is not permanent. When Castro made it known that Batista was not necessarily entrenched and permanent, popular tolerance of a corrupt and unpopular government vanished. The conquest of Cuba was a victory by default. Batista fled; he had no choice.

Wet Paint Ahead

Within the next couple of weeks state and county highway crews will be busy painting centerlines on our roads.

These are the white and yellow markings which are so essential to the protection of all motorists. It is important right now that we give the painters a comfortable margin of safety by driving cautiously when approaching them. In today's traffic, we don't envy them their jobs.

Worthy Addition

The record library to be established at the Salem Public Library to the memory of the late Vesta King will be a worthy addition to the many public services already offered by the institution. Mrs. King, who was Welcome Wagon hostess and active in the leadership of the Community Concerts, loved music. It is fitting that the Welcome Wagon, its members comparative newcomers to our city, chose to start a collection of classical and semi-classical album. Music lovers, like the readers of good books, will find the record library more popular as the fund to build it increases.

Letter From Max

By Martin R. Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

Another thing you can go crazy thinking about is "instant justice."

We have instant coffee, instant shaving lather, instant this and instant that, but it usually takes two or three years or more for a case to reach the U.S. Supreme Court, various "little" wars always are being fought around the globe and the civil rights debate goes on and on and on.

But instant justice would not please everyone. Like the fellow who was going to the races and said, "I can't afford to break even."

You remember the Duke of Wellington said, "The battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton." Maybe someday people will be saying, "The battle of Vietnam was won on the Plain of Jars."

The Lodge-Rockefeller coalition in the California primary is another example of the old maxim "Politics makes strange bedfellows." But their tieup is not quite so strange as the disparate factions in the Democratic party or as the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition in Congress or as differences within the Republican party.

Did you ever notice how some wealthy people brag about the bargains they get when shopping for anything from groceries to an auto, while some people with only a fraction of that wealth brag about the high cost of their purchases? We never do either, do we Twill?

My batting average is so low on predictions of world affairs that you can take cheer from the following: Poverty in most Latin American countries is certain to invite Communist gains and things will get a lot worse before they can get better.

Khrushchev's triumphal tour of Egypt is yet another example of how Russia has become the most imperial and greatest colonial power in the world today. Nasser should look that gift dam in the mouth.

We hear so much about how the Kremlin is outsmarting us it is always refreshing to hear someone get up on his hind legs and say it ain't necessarily so. The strains in the western alliance appear inconsequential compared to the Russia-China rift. Does that make you feel better?

It will be interesting to see what happens in the new U.S. hard-sell campaign to increase exports. I have never been able to understand why the U.S. could not do better in world trade, because with its highly competitive system this country should have the know-how to compete in any market.

The trial-by-jury provision in a civil rights bill is another one of those puzzlers that can divide opinion which would otherwise be in agreement. Historically jury trials have been one of our bulwarks for freedom but when the possibility of stacking juries occurs there is a desire to limit their use. It is another example of theory clashing with practice.

The grass is growing so fast in our lawn aeronautical engineers here are studying it for the secret of vertical ascent.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Something's Gotta Give!

Union Chiefs Boost Rocky

By VICTOR RIESEL

There no longer can be any doubt that powerful labor leaders are running interference for Nelson Rockefeller in the drive to block Barry Goldwater. And they are picking up speed in California where they want to stop him cold in the June 2 primary.

The New York governor got a strong assist the other day from no less than the chief of the big Steelworkers Union, silver-haired David McDonald, whose people have long been influential inside labor on the Coast.

The strong arm of McDonald was extended to Rockefeller during the closed sessions of the AFL-CIO high command executive council. The steel chief lauded his fellow council member Lee Minton (both are national AFL-CIO vice presidents) for helping Rockefeller.

He quietly gave Minton—who also is chairman of the National Labor for Rockefeller Committee—a list of United Steelworkers officials and activists and told him to telephone them personally.

As a close personal friend and political ally of President Johnson, the steel labor leader could not publicly assign some of his California lieutenants to the Rockefeller operation. But Minton was assured that they are ready, willing and able and are awaiting his telephone calls.

OTHER NATIONAL union chiefs on the high command board praised Minton, who is head of the Glass Bottle Blowers Union, for his alliance with Rockefeller and just as enthusiastically as McDonald disclosed that many of their California colleagues were with him in the "Stop - Goldwater" campaign.

Bluntest of all were leaders of the Building and Construction Trades Unions. Their California counterparts are making no secret of their efforts to kill off Sen. Goldwater's chances for the Republican nomination.

One of the frankest declarations of war on the Arizona appears in the May 15 edition of the East Bay Labor Journal, the "only official publication of Central Labor Council—AFL-CIO and Building Trades Council of Alameda County" which is in the San Francisco Bay area.

It says candidly, "GOP Unionists Warned to Vote Against Barry."

THEN FOLLOWS an editorial unique even for the outspoken, rough-and-tumble politics of recent primaries.

"Some people in the labor movement think the nomination of Barry Goldwater by the Republicans would be the best thing that could happen for Democrats and unions," the editor writes.

"In other words, he would be the easiest to beat. A different view was expressed at last week's Building Trades Council meeting. It was suggested that union members who are registered Republicans vote against Goldwater June 2.

"Since California primary laws prohibit write-ins or jumping party lines, the only way for registered Republicans to do this is to vote for Rockefeller."

However, the paper is quick to advise its readers that this will only be temporary strategy and that they are not abandoning the Democratic party.

"Proponents of this course," the paper warns, "carefully point out that they are in no way endorsing Rockefeller. And they emphasize that President Johnson is the man for all unionists, regardless of political party, to vote for in November."

THIS PUBLICATION of a strong section of the California labor movement then declares it has at least three reasons for its pre-primary policy.

"Since Rockefeller is generally considered out of the running," the labor analyst asserts, "a vote for him is a vote to stop Goldwater."

"A Johnson - Goldwater race would exert pressure on Democrats to become more conservative. The national Democratic party needs a little pulling toward more liberal, not more conservative, positions."

"There always is a slim chance that something might happen to President Johnson between now and November, or that, through some fluke, Republicans might 'pull a Harry Truman'."

"We don't think any of these things will happen, but they are possible. At any rate, we are prepared to document the phoniness of the alleged labor and liberal records of Rockefeller, Scranton, Lodge or any other GOP candidate."

"IN ADDITION, we feel it would be bad for California if Goldwater forces captured the GOP machinery any more fully than they already have..."

Rockefeller's people take no personal insult from the needling so long as the appeal to the registered Republican laborites is pushed by the union chiefs. The governor's strategists estimate that 25 per cent of the state's 1.7 million union members are registered with the GOP.

This would mean 425,000 dues card holders and their families, a tight race this could be a balance-of-power bloc—if it could be swung.

If the labor people, after all their work, fail to deliver, they will be one of the losers, though they're not on the primary ballot.

By SEYMOUR FRIEDIN

Deep in the heart of Germany, President Johnson is learning the hard way that you can't substitute impatient motion for foreign policy.

He pulled a Texas-sized blunder when he suggested airily that the West Germans get going for a closer understanding with the Russians. His ambassador from Texas, the affable George McGhee, keeps repeating the mistake by dimming in the same thought to higher-ups here in the government.

Plain talking, ally to ally, is fine if the talker knows whereof he speaks. But neither the President nor his old friend, Ambassador McGhee, seem to be conversant with the German political picture or of the power position affecting this country.

THE GERMAN government happens to be rather embattled at present. It is gripped, too, by a pre-election trauma. Tubby, cigar-chomping Chancellor Erhard is under some sharp-shooting fire from his own Christian Democratic (CDU) party.

His foreign minister, youngish handsome Gerhard Schröder, is the immediate sitting duck. Gunning for him are such formidable characters as retired Chancellor Adenauer and the embittered former defense minister, Franz-Josef Strauss from Bavaria.

They believe—and tell the Germans so—that Erhard permitted Schröder to go too far too fast in dealing with the East bloc.

The Bonn Government, then, finds itself squeezed from within by its own critics and pressured from without by the U.S. President and his well-tailored plenipotentiary for totally conflicting reasons. In the actuality of power politics, the Erhard government has done in finitely better than either of its major critics care to concede.

First, there is only narrow room for maneuver, and Schröder—whom Strauss detests and also happens to want his job—exploited the wee opening skillfully. So adeptly, as a matter of fact, that the odious Soviet proconsul in Communist East Germany, Walter Ulbricht, makes bitter private and public complaints about his comrades.

THE LATEST was against the Hungarian regime of Janos Kadar. Like its kindred regimes in Eastern Europe, the Hungarian rushed to make trade arrangements with the Federal Republic. Ulbricht beefed, privately at first and lately in public, that he was being rapidly outflanked and surrounded.

He simply meant that the West Germans, through trade and varied cultural deals, were isolating him in Eastern Europe. An important thing to remember in this complex and delicate maneuver is that all Ulbricht's East European comrades initiated the talks with the West Germans.

It adds up, by the way, to lots more than the Johnson administration has done with all the talk of a quest of peace and accommodation with the East European regimes. The President's own embassy in Bonn can give him chapter and verse on that if he wants it.

Second, in the power sphere, the President's impatience or perhaps misreading of present-day Germany overlooks Soviet intentions. The Russians have shown absolutely no interest in talking about better relations with the West Germans.

They, of course, have the enabling power to make German reunification possible. It cannot be done without Soviet approval and acceptance. The Russians, for their own power reasons, are much more obsessed today with shoring up the crumbling Ulbricht regime.

THE WEST GERMANS, suggested President Johnson, should take the initiative. How? The Germans ask this question. Through Schröder they also asked the same thing at the recent NATO meeting. So, Schröder got a quarter loaf when he urged his allies to underwrite and prepare a new approach on reunification—in other words, put pressure on the Russians to offer something.

What he got, instead, was the pious agreement that everyone in the West was all for German reunification. In urging fresh initiative from the West Germans, neither the President nor his advisers have ever suggested exactly what they hoped the Germans would or could do.

Do something has been the Johnsonian behest. In the practice of power politics, that means you give away something for nothing. No sovereign government could do that and hope for reelection in the Western parliamentary system, especially Germany's.

German power, said President Johnson, haunts Soviet memories. That also is why he would like to see the Germans cuddling closer in the interests of European relaxation.

Since Premier Khrushchev has often boasted that his nuclear weapons could smash Germany in no time, this nightmare has peculiarly trimmed dimensions.

MOREOVER, President Johnson obviously didn't reckon with the consternation his off-the-cuff comments caused to the new generation in Bonn. They had been raised, maybe lulled, in the thought that the United States was on their side. They would, in effect, think better and behave better than did their fathers.

Now they are told, from Washington, that we want them to yield something, to do what we said should not be done without sound reason. We offer no real reason.

It plays directly into the hands of the Erhard-Schröder critics and snipers. Yet, recently, the Americans asked and the Germans agreed to provide something extra in the way of support for South Viet Nam. That took doing by Erhard.

In the long run, we cannot have it both ways in West Germany. There are lots of things wrong with this government. But the President didn't select the right thing from which to generate steam. He did a deep disservice to the Erhard government and to its immediate future freedom of maneuver.

Today In History

Today is Monday, May 25, the 146th day of 1964. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1787, the first session of the Constitutional Convention was held in Philadelphia, ostensibly to amend the old Articles of Confederation. As it turned out, however, the convention framed the Constitution we have today.

On this date in 1803, poet, essayist and philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson was born in Boston.

In 1862, Confederate Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson defeated Union forces at Winchester, Va.

In 1942, Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell arrived in New Delhi, India, after his epic retreat from Burma.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a joint news conference in Washington.

In 1944, the Anzio beachhead was linked to the main Allied front in Italy.

Harvey's Tomb

(For Hal Boyle)

By WICK TEMPLE

MONTE NE, Ark. (AP)—Coin Harvey's ghost is going to have to learn to swim.

Within a few months, the decaying monument Harvey built in this Ozark Mountain village will be under 15 feet of water from the new Beaver reservoir.

And it's probably a happy piece of irony for the old cynic who once ran for president on the Liberty party ticket.

Harvey predicted that his mountain paradise would be covered with earth by land upheavals after our civilization perished. Instead, it will be covered with water in a $45.5-million project that will provide hydroelectric power and flood control to flourishing northwest Arkansas.

Harvey, a noted lawyer in Chicago and Denver, Colo., became famous in the 1880s with books advocating the free coinage of silver. He was a close adviser to William Jennings Bryan when Bryan ran for president in 1896.

After Bryan was defeated and the Democratic party scuttled the gold question as an issue, Harvey gave up U.S. civilization as a bad deal and moved to the remote Ozarks.

He found a beautiful valley, rich from flowing springs, combined a word of Latin origin with an Omaha Indian word to name the town Monte Ne—Mountain Water.

He built elaborate log hotels on the slopes surrounding the valley. He ran a private railroad from nearby Rogers, brought gondolas from Venice to carry passengers across lagoons from the terminal to the hotels.

In the first years of this century, Monte Ne was a lively place. Well-heeled vacationers came from all over the nation to Harvey's never-never land.

Harvey married his secretary and they lived peacefully above the lagoons. But he couldn't stay out of politics.

The Liberty party renewed the fight for free silver and nominated Harvey as its standard-bearer.

Harvey cut into a hillside an astounding stone amphitheater, and the party held its convention there in 1932, nominating the 80-year-old Harvey for president. He got only 50,000 votes, and his disillusionment was complete.

He decided to build a pyramid that would be above the range of the earth movement he predicted would cover the Ozarks. In his plan, the tip of the pyramid would protrude from the rubble with a marker saying "Look below and find the records of a lost civilization."

In the pyramid would be such items as a phonograph, a car, Bible, encyclopedias, histories and a guide book to help the finger decipher the English language.

The pyramid foundation was built, but the structure was never finished. Harvey died in 1936 and was entombed with his long-dead son in concrete beside a lagoon, near the amphitheater.

Army engineers recently moved the tomb to higher ground. It will be on the banks of the reservoir.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I have heard complaints about the musty odor in clothes hamper. . . . I put all the wrappers from my toilet soap in the bottom of my clothes hamper! A generous layer of them keeps a fresh aroma in the hamper until I'm ready to do the next washing.

M. RUSH

Now who besides our Miss Rush has ever thought about utilizing a soap wrapper?

If we gals would stop to think about it, that bar of soap may have been in the wrapper for months and months and months.

I am sure that the wrapper is thoroughly "permeated" with this luscious aroma.

So why not put them in your laundry hamper? Or closets? Or drawers? You're a little darlin' to send us this hint.

LOVE, HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that the medium speed on a regular mixer is the high speed on a portable one?

This is absolutely true . . . In other words if the recipe you are using says "beat with an electric mixer on medium for two minutes," and you happen to be using a portable type mixer, you would use the HIGH SPEED, not the medium speed. However, you do not change the time you are to beat it. That remains the same.

Yours for a better cake!

J. P.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to pass on a time saver: When wiping your outside clotheslines, before hanging up your clothes, use two cloths instead of one to wipe the line.

This way you can wash the length of the clothesline, two lines at a time, with one rag in each hand and save half your time.

For those who have extremely soiled clotheslines, they can put a cloth in each hand, go down ONE clothesline at a time and not only remove soil with the first cloth but remove more with the second!

D. NBDE.

DEAR HELOISE: The most helpful and fool-proof gadget I have discovered for a kitchen is a real handy two-legged, two-armed little woman with a pretty apron wrapped around her.

WALTER TURNER.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever try to use your buttonhole attachment on flimsy material with and find that the material slips and the buttonhole is impossible to make?

I paint the underneath side of the area (where the buttonhole is to be made) with a coat of colorless fingernail polish. Allow it to dry thoroughly then make the buttonhole. This keeps the material from raveling!

MRS. ALLEN.

DEAR HELOISE: When my husband grills steaks or hamburger patties on our charcoal grill and we have left over charcoal which has hardly been burned . . . he takes those pieces out with tongs and puts them in a dry two-pound coffee can and immediately puts the lid on. They are perfectly good to use the next time. . . .

There is no messy water to dry out and when the lid is put on the can the burning stops at once!

MRS. ALAN RUSSETT.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep your portable dishwasher from splashing water all over the drainboards when it expels, place a tall receptacle directly under the outlet.

EVE.

DEAR HELOISE: To straighten fringe on an article after it has been laundered, slap it hard against your ironing board or a table. The fringe will straighten out perfectly.

PEGGY M.

DEAR HELOISE: We sometimes have a battle royal getting the medicine inside the kids! And just who can afford to waste a drop of these gold plated miracle drugs?

I have found that if you set the child in a chair, open the medicine bottle, hand him the cap of the bottle, while you pour the medicine into the spoon, then hand him the bottle and tell him to put the cap back on it and quietly say "Open your mouth" — he is so absorbed in putting the cap back on the bottle that he swallows almost anything without knowing it!

With a word of immediate praise for him being able to cap the bottle, the whole operation is finished and no medicine wasted.

CHARLYNE SPANIKEL.

PONDER LAKE ERIE ILLS
CLEVELAND (AP) — Lake Erie is "well on its way to becoming America's dead sea" because of its polluted waters, according to James Quigley of the Health, Education and Welfare Department. "Lake Erie is the shallowest of the Great Lakes and can stand the least abuse of all," Quigley, an assistant secretary, said Sunday on television program.

Quigley said the government will recommend ways of curing the lake's ills on the basis of a study now being made on lake conditions. Then it would become the responsibility of states bordering Lake Erie and of local communities to join the federal government "to save the dying lake," he said.

West Branch Band Group Installs

Mrs. Jay Denny, past president, was in charge of the installation.

Mrs. Weizencker, outgoing president, expressed appreciation for cooperation she received. Mrs. Raymond Biddle offered prayer. Mrs. Biddle, chairman of the uniform committee, announced that 115 uniforms have been ordered.

Announcement was made that all uniforms are to be cleaned and turned in to the school before 3 p.m. June 5 or the deposit will be forfeited. Leland Glass will audit the books for this year.

The group will serve the senior banquet Tuesday and the Goshen Alumni Banquet June 13. Mrs. Jay Denny was appointed co-chairman of the knife project to assist Mrs. Willis Green.

Barn Fire Near Lisbon Causes Slight Damage

LISBON — A fire in the barn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Powell, Rt. 164, 2½ miles south of Lisbon, caused minor damages, according to village firemen.

Charles Powell, 9, discovered the fire around noon, a short time after his father had started the tractor in the barn. Charles called his mother and they put out the fire before village firemen arrived.

Mrs. Rebecca Davis, grandmother of Mrs. Powell, called the fire department. The only damage was to a ladder.

Sino-Soviet Split to Deepen, AP Writer Tells Editors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The split between the Chinese and Soviet Communists is "the most important development of the cold war in the last decade," says William L. Ryan, veteran news analyst for the Associated Press.

Ryan told a group of Ohio newspaper editors Sunday that he cannot see a patch in the Sino-Soviet dispute in the near future. "I think the split will get much deeper," he said.

Ryan, an expert on Communist affairs, made his comments on Southeast Asia at the semi-annual meeting of the Associated Press Society of Ohio, an organization of newspaper members of the wire service cooperative in Ohio.

Ryan said the split between the two giant Communist powers cannot, however, bring much comfort to the West "because it may lead to an act of desperation."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev would have to support the Chinese in a full scale war, Ryan said, "or sacrifice the support of the militant Communists throughout the world."

The key to world peace, Ryan said, lies in China, which feels that "the failure to strike at this time for world communism is betrayal."

"They say they can't wait any 20 years with Khrushchev, who wants to build up the Soviet economy to a point where it can compete with the United States," Ryan said.

A Russian showdown with the Chinese is improbable even though the Russians want it, according to Ryan. The Italian Communist and some other national Communist parties are afraid such a meeting will "blow the movement sky high," the AP news analyst said.

Ben Maidenberg, executive editor of the Akron Beacon-Journal, was named president of the society to succeed Charles Reamer of the Athens Messenger.

Other officers elected were: Harry Yockey, editor of the Dover Daily Reporter, vice president; Gene Jordan, city editor of the Columbus Dispatch, treasurer (re-elected); and Alva N. Dopking, chief of the Ohio AP Bureau, secretary.

tary. Ralph Holsinger, managing editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, was elected

Greenford

Willing Workers Class met Thursday at the Gas Company in Salem and held a short business meeting. Mrs. Salem Gromley gave the devotions. After the meeting, Miss Betty Newton, home economist for the Gas Company, demonstrated how to cook and serve a meal, which was served to the class. Next meeting will be June 18 at the home of Mrs. Edwin Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sneddon of Washingtonville and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Metts of Greenford have returned home after attending the tulip festival in Holland, Mich.

Locust Grove Baptist Church Choir members have returned home after attending the American Baptist Convention Banquet at Atlantic City, N. J. Some of the members also toured the World's Fair.

Longfellow's "Song of Hiawatha" is considered by some to be the great folk epic of the United States.

Mrs. Mary Anna Phillips, 74, of RD 3, Salem, died of complications Saturday at 1:50 p.m. in her home following a long illness.

Born in Salem Oct. 12, 1889, the daughter of Charles and Sara Post Burt, she was a member of Phillips Christian Church. Her husband, Charles, died in 1960.

She is survived by four sons, George, Charles and Gail, all of Salem, and John of Medina; three daughters, Mrs. Rachel Milliken, Mrs. Anna Winkle and Mrs. Catherine Koons, all of Salem; 33 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren. Three sisters, Miss Daisy Burt, Mrs. Minnie Vincent and Mrs. Elsie Grumley, preceded her in death.

Grandma

boys and girls attending the Community Vacation Bible School here, and has been adviser for the Leetonia Maidenettes 4-H Club the past 10 years.

She considers youth the hope of the United States. "The Communists know that if they can corrupt our youngest generation, then they have our country in the palms of their hands," the devoutly Christian woman says.

When she first enrolled as a junior at high school in 1902, some doubt existed as to her reception by other students, all of them young enough to be her children or grandchildren.

"Within a few weeks I was one of them!" she declares. She was thrilled at her ready absorption into the classroom routine. She had a feeling of belonging. "The teachers and the children were all so helpful, so wonderful," the grandmother said enthusiastically.

Classes that stand out in her memory especially vividly are American literature and composition, taught by Miss Evelyn Mercure, and American government, instructed by Len Batcha. They were revelations to her.

"I learned so much about our government, expression and good literature that I was completely ignorant of before," she declared. Now she has a great backlog of extra reading she hopes to get done at the public library — when she isn't helping some child or group of children.

A veteran cook, of course, Mrs. Ikirt, the former Valda Moore, picked up a lot of ideas to try out in the kitchen to please her husband, Raymond, or her young 4-H charges. Interior decorating was also eye-opening for her.

She admits that attending classes while trying to keep a house and work with her beloved children was an immense task. "I had to cut extra activities to the bone," she said, and "stick to the absolute essentials."

Her five children are full of pride over their mother who had the fortitude to go back for her degree. Four children and their families will be on hand tomorrow night for the big event. The children include Charles W. Lippitt of Columbus, Mrs. Faye Widdler of Canton, Mrs. Kathryn Morse of Alliance and the Rev. Frederick Lippitt of Bellaire. (Her former husband was killed years ago in a mine accident). Too far away to come to the ceremony is Mrs. Ruth Ann Hole of Palm Beach, Fla.

Her next move? Now she has hopes of continuing with higher education, perhaps take courses in child psychology and other courses, to better equip her to help others. It's all part of her "labor of love."

Salem Man Slightly Injured In Mishap

Roger Bowman of RD 4, Salem received minor injuries when the car in which he was riding was involved in a one-car mishap Saturday at 7:53 p.m., on N. Ellsworth Ave., about 100 feet south of 8th St.

Police said Bowman was a passenger in an auto driven south by John F. Cagle, 17, of Canfield who apparently lost control of his vehicle which jumped the curb and struck a utility pole. He was cited for reckless operation.

His first wife, Anna Blanche Hendricks Bare, died in 1935. He later married Esther McCluggage Sanor, who survives.

Besides his wife, Mr. Bare is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Theda Phillips of Youngstown, Mrs. Theron Roller of North Lima, and Mrs. John Cook of Canfield; a son, Richard Bare of RD 5, Salem, a step-daughter, Mrs. Zern Alkema of RD, Lisbon; two stepsons, Gerald Sanor of Austintown, and Lowell Sanor of RD 1, Salem; three sisters, Mrs. Alvin Knopp of Columbiana, Miss Eva Bare and Mrs. Jacob Ziegler, both of North Lima, three brothers, Elmer and Homer Bare of North Lima, and Leo Bare of Youngstown; 10 grandchildren; 11 step-grandchildren; 11 great grandchildren and five step-great grandchildren.

Born Dec. 5, 1920, in Columbiana, she was the daughter of Lester and Faye Dyke Harrold. A life resident of Columbiana, she was a member of the First Methodist Church. She had been a waitress at Coughlins Coffee Shop for the past two years. Her husband, Clyde Bailey, whom she married Jan. 29, 1939, died in April, 1955.

Bucher to Retire After '64 Season

LISBON — Edwin "Bud" Bucher told 130 persons attending the Lisbon Booster Club's all-sports banquet at Lincoln School Saturday night that the 1964 season will be his last as football coach. Bucher said he plans to retire.

Bucher, still recuperating from injuries suffered in an automobile accident in which one Lisbon teacher was killed last fall, was presented the "coach of the year award" at the annual dinner.

Gary Pike, high school basketball coach for the past several years, is retiring at the end of the present school term. He thanked the Boosters for their assistance.

Special guests were introduced by Gail "Cappy" Lewis, who was master of ceremonies. The dinner was served by Lincoln School cafeteria workers.

Clark Hinkle of Toronto, one of the first 18 players elected to the National Professional Hall of Fame at Canton, was guest speaker.

hoped the package could be submitted to the Senate this week as a substitute for the House bill now being debated.

This substitute, they said, could be discussed this week and much of next week before an attempt is made to shut off debate and bring the bill to a vote.

The approval of two-thirds of the senators present and voting is required to shut off the Southern oratory that has prevented action on the bitterly disputed legislation.

Senate leaders have indicated they might try to invoke cloture by the second week in June. An Associated Press poll of all 100 senators, however, revealed that the votes needed for cloture in early June are not yet available.

It would take 67 votes to close the debate if the full membership were on hand. Only 55 senators said they were willing to go on record now for cloture in early June. There were 27 opposed to cloture then. The 17 others were either non-committal or unwilling to say whether they would vote for cloture by early June.

These 17, mostly from the Midwest and from Rocky Mountain states, hold the key to the final outcome.

This will be a short work week for Congress with both House and Senate expected to quit on Thursday for a three-day Memorial Day weekend.

Plaque at Hanoverton Honors Memorial of Late Dr. Pelley

HANOVERTON — A bronze plaque, in memory of the late Dr. H. J. Pelley, was dedicated Sunday in the village playground.

Conducting the ceremonies, attended by 200 persons, was Mayor George Wilson, who also made a few remarks about Dr. Pelley's life, stating that, after graduation in 1892 from Penn State University, he practiced in Dunganon until 1918 and then came to Hanoverton where he practiced until his retirement in 1953.

Mayor Wilson also introduced Dr. Gail Rouse of the Salem Central Clinic, who spoke briefly. An original poem, in honor of Dr. Pelley, written by Mrs. Michael Kupinski, was read by her daughter, Sheryll.

Bruce Pelley of Hanoverton, son of Dr. Pelley, gave a few remarks and unveiled the plaque, which will now stand in the playground, to be known officially as Pelley Memorial Park.

The services started with a parade which was led by the color guard and firing squad of the Lepine-Rush American Legion Post, United High School Band, under the direction of Robert Hill, United High Twirlers and Hanoverton Campfire Girls.

Following the ceremonies, the parade moved to Grove Hill Cemetery for Memorial Day services.

Rev. James Kolp of St. Philip-Neri Church in Dunganon gave the invocation. Sally Leatherberry, United High School student, gave the Gettysburg Address.

Main address was given by R. Dale Miller of Lisbon. Rev. Jerold Hollabaugh of the Hanoverton Christian Church gave the benediction.

A salute of guns followed by "Taps" closed the memorial service.

were treated at Alliance City Hospital and the others at Salem Central Clinic. All were released.

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol reported Hardy was heading east with Misses Hardy and Jackson as passengers. His car went left of center as it came over a hill and crashed into an opposite-bound car operated by Horstfall, who was accompanied by Mrs. Barnes.

Both cars were extensively damaged. Hardy was cited for driving left of center and the Californian for failure to own an operator's license.

Truck Tips, Boys Hurt
Three Columbiana boys were injured when a truck operated by the father of one of the youths went off the road and County Rd. 422, two miles east of Saturday at 3:15 p.m. on of their village.

Albert Hornsby, 25, of Main St. Ext., Columbiana, was driving west with the boys as passengers when he saw another vehicle coming the other way. To avoid a collision, he said, he drove off the right side, went into a ditch and struck a fence, causing the vehicle to upset.

Taken to Salem City Hospital were his son, James Albert Hornsby, 6, fractured right wrist; Lawrence J. Davis, 16, of Main St. Ext., lacerations of the right forearm and lower arm; and Carl Mumpire, 7, also of Columbiana, abrasions of the hips and contusions of the right leg. They were treated and released.

Hornsby was cited for speed excessive for conditions. A whiplash of the neck was suffered by a Pennsylvania woman involved in a crash between her husband's auto and one from East Palestine Sunday at 6:50 p.m. on Route 14, about two miles east of Columbiana.

Mrs. Doris Irene Lauch, 24, of Beaver Falls, Pa., was taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment. She was riding in a car driven by her husband, William A. Lauch, 25, whose vehicle was hit from behind by a car operated by Wilmer Wilson, 19, of 914 N. Market St., East Palestine. The county youth was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Neil L. Walters, 33, of 388 W. 7th St., Salem, was cited for making an improper left turn following a two-car mishap Saturday at 3 p.m. on Route 172 near Moultrie.

Walters' car was hit in the left side by a car operated by Robert E. Wonderle, 20, of Minerva, as the Salem motorist was making a left turn.

buildings, spraying these structures with water from the pond on the County Home property. So rapidly did the fire spread that the barn was a smoldering mass of debris within an hour.

Walter Hunston, county commissioners' president, said the loss is covered by insurance.

FINED $25 BY MAYOR
James R. Witmer, 19, of RD 5, Salem, was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Sunday on a charge of reckless operation. He was cited at 1:38 a.m. Sunday at the intersection of 3rd St. and N. Ellsworth Ave.

Man Kills Three Children As 'Duty'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Robert Henry Nicolaus, 31, admitted shooting his three children to death because he thought they would be better off in heaven, sheriff's deputies reported.

"I felt I had a duty," Sheriff's Sgt. John Crow quoted Nicolaus after the Sacramento man's arrest Sunday.

The state division of highways analyst was booked into Sacramento County jail for investigation of murder.

Deputies said Nicolaus told them he shot Roberta, 7, Donald, 5, and Heidi, 2, in the trunk of his car where "they were looking for a key he told them he had lost."

The bodies were found in the car, parked in North Sacramento.

The two older children were by a former marriage. The youngest was by his present wife.

courts are empowered to order re-opening of the county schools.

Black said the case would go back to U.S. District Court in Virginia "with directions to enter a decree which will guarantee that these petitioners (Negro students) will get the kind of education that is given in the state's public schools."

Black added that, "If it becomes necessary to add new parties" to the lengthy litigation to accomplish the purpose ordered today, the federal court in Virginia "is free to do so."

The U.S. District Court in Virginia, Black said, has power to order the public schools opened if such an order is "required to assure these petitioners (Negro students) that their constitutional rights will no longer be denied them."

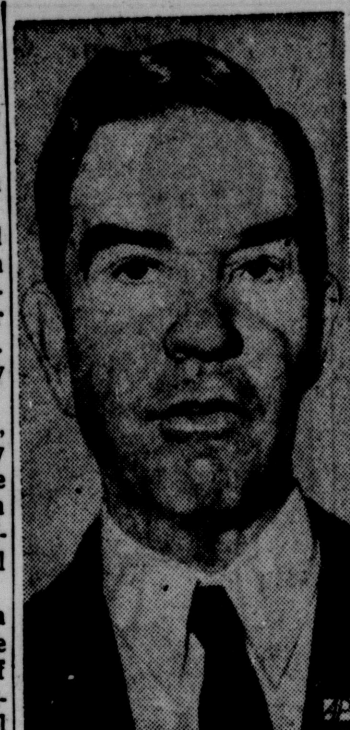

"The time for mere 'deliberate speed' has run out, and that phrase can no longer justify denying these Prince Edward County school children their constitutional rights to an education equal to that afforded by the public schools in other parts of Virginia," Black stated.

East Liverpool Man Joins State Patrol

Patrolman Donald R. Woomer, an East Liverpool native, today joined the staff of the Canfield barracks of the State Highway Patrol, according to Sgt. A. A. Lalakus.

He transferred from the Zanesville post where he spent his entire four years as a patrolman since graduating from the Columbus training academy. He fills a vacancy left by the departure of Paul Grimes, who was transferred to Woomer's former post.

Woomer, a 1954 East Liverpool High School graduate, attended Kent State University where he studied chemistry a year after commencement. He then entered the Navy where he spent two years, including a tour in Newfoundland. He is married to the former Patricia Stoffel of East Liverpool.

TO NEW POST — Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) moves up to the chairmanship of the powerful House Appropriations Committee. He succeeds the late Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.).

tators poured onto the field.

The referee called off the game. Police escorted him off the field. He headed for the dressing rooms.

The game only excited the fans more.

"They threw seat cushions and bottles and anything else they could lay their hands on," said a witness.

Nothing could stop the mobs dashing in frenzy for the exit gates, still closed because of the sudden end of the game.

Body upon body was crushed and stomped in the dash to escape. Men, women and children died, in the stands and at the exits.

Traffic around the stadium in the center of the city was jammed for hours. Mounted police charged the crowds outside in an effort to keep order.

Hoodlums looted the pockets of some of the victims. They also snatched watches and other valuables.

Under the stadium lights, survivors and police went to the aid of the injured and tried to sort out the piles of dead. The injured were sent to hospitals in ambulances, taxis, and commandeered cars and trucks.

Many persons blamed the police use of tear gas for starting the panic.

Outside the hospitals, mobs assembled, shouting denunciations of the police. "Revenge," they screamed. "Down with the police."

With Patients

Dr. M. M. Sandrock of S. Lincoln Ave. is recovering from surgery at Salem City Hospital.

Frank Major, 14, Country Club Lane, North Benton, is in fairly good condition in Alliance City Hospital where he was admitted at 11:5 a.m. Sunday for treatment of a fractured left elbow suffered when he fell from a pony.

Robert Crowder Jr., 10, son of Robert Crowder of Deerfield, was treated Saturday at 10:15 p.m. at Alliance City Hospital for a puncture wound of the right foot received when he stepped on a spike.

Darrell Covert, 35, of North Georgetown sprained his left ankle in a fall and was treated at Alliance City Hospital at 6:10 p.m. Saturday.

Michael Coman, 34, of Duck Creek Road, is in good condition in Salem City Hospital where he was admitted at 3:45 a.m. Sunday for treatment of an injury to the right hand suffered when he pushed his hand through a window.

Ralph Davis, 58, of RD 1, Salem, received lacerations of fingers on the right hand Saturday while at work at the American Steel Foundries plant at Alliance and was treated at the Alliance City Hospital.

John Wells, national director of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's campaign, said, "It appears to me that Rockefeller sits right in the middle of Gen. Eisenhower's statement."

Retired Gen. C. T. (Buck) Lanham, active in the campaign to draft Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for the nomination, said Eisenhower's statement of GOP principles fits Lodge and could cover Rockefeller or Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania as well.

Harold E. Stassen, an announced candidate, said in Philadelphia: "We needed these words from him (Eisenhower). I hope he takes an increasingly active role in the crucial 1964 decision of our Republican party."

disclosed, but it was presumed that they called for repayment over 12 years at 2.5 per cent interest. The previous $500 million in Soviet credits to Egypt was on this basis.

The United States has supplied Egypt with $750 million in assistance in the last 10 years.

The U.S. State Department warned last fall that further U.S. assistance was imperiled by Nasser's intervention in Yemen's civil war and the Senate tacked a rider onto the foreign aid bill barring aid to countries "engaged in or preparing for aggressive military effort."

In the Khrushchev - Nasser communique, Nasser defended the "legitimate right of the Cuban people to defend their sovereignty" after Khrushchev warned that U.S. reconnaissance flights over the island could have "most fatal consequences for those who undertake such gambles."

Both leaders denounced "attempts to torpedo the Geneva agreements of 1962 with regard to Laos," but they did not say whether they thought the United States or Communist China was responsible for the crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Nasser endorsed the Soviet Union's bid to attend the coming meeting of Asian - African states as an Asian power. Red China says the Soviet Union is predominantly a European power and should be barred.

TV-Radio Today

By ALAN GILL
The Bequeathed Miss Emmy award, like the Winged Victory of which it is a miniature, is largely distinguished by the fact that it does not have a head.

Alan Gill

A couple of weeks ago, the president of CBS News, Fred W. Friendly, threw the entire television industry into an uproar when he mentioned this fact publicly.

Because the awards were "unprofessional, unrealistic and unfair," he said, he was pulling CBS News and its people out of the ceremonies. Friendly griped about nominating procedures that would throw a regular series like his own "CBS Reports" against a one-shot special like "The American Revolution of '63." He didn't like the idea of people voting on special category shows who were not competent to judge them, either. Finally, he attacked the "bloc voting" by company and by network.

Well, before you could say Hubbell Robinson, ABC-TV was marching off the field in a huff. Next, the CBS network was following the lead of its news division, and David Susskind and Dan Melnick of Talent Associates-Paramount were picking up THEIR marbles and making for the exit.

IN THE THICK OF the fighting, as the networks tossed Roman candles at each other, I dropped in to see one of the beleaguered officials of the TV academy — its national secretary, Miss Betty Furness. I found her, not under her desk, but at it.

The lady, looking no less lovely than she did in the days when she was opening ice box doors for Westinghouse, has a daily CBS radio program of her own these days, "Woman's World," and is a woman of the world. "I chucked everything — the acting — after the conventions and election of 1960, when I found the real world was so much more exciting than the make-believe one. You can't imagine the commercial and acting money I've turned my back on since."

About the Emmy dispute Miss Furness said: "I know I should be more upset, but I'm not. No one, of course, likes having the family scrapping out in public. But fights of this sort usually wind up all to the good. After the ceremonies, it's back to the drawing-board, men."

SHE DEFENDED THE procedures of the Awards Committee and the trustees as truly representative of the 6,000 members of the academy, professionally and geographically. "In the voting," she continued, "the academy is a democracy. Maybe a few judges can do a better job than thousands of judges, but we must let everyone have his say. Its what's good about democracy and what's awfully difficult, too."

She said it is as natural for TV people to bloc-vote as it is for Democrats and Republicans, then detailed the complexities of setting up categories, of which there are 27 this year. "One year, there were 43 and it was awful. But if Fred has his way, we may be back up there."

I asked her if she had a solution of her own to offer. She said, "Yes. I'd like to see a no-category system brought in. In the committee, you'd nominate anything you thought worth an award. Suppose there were, in your opinion, three great comedy series and no great dramas — well, you'd vote for excellence, meaning the comedies, and forget about the second-rate stuff, the dramas."

"MAYBE THE FINAL BALLOT would boil down to 50 entries. Price-Waterhouse would go over the returns and find, perhaps, that six shows pulled over 80 per cent of the vote. Well, then there'd be only six Emmies given out that year. It's a great system. And now I'll tell you why it won't work: too many people would be left out."

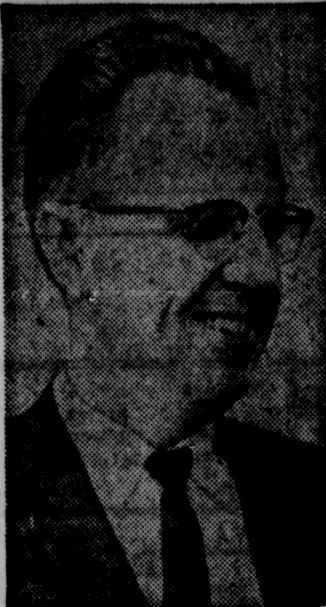

Meanwhile, NBC will put on the Emmy show tonight, as scheduled, with the comic assistance of such talents as the TW3 troupe, Danny Kaye, Dick Van Dyke, Mary Tyler Moore, Carl Reiner and Mel Brooks. "I'll be there," said Betty Furness. "I may have to sprawl across three empty chairs, but I'll be there."

Underlayment Big Factor In Laying Smooth Tile Floor

Resilient floor tiles follow the contour of the underfloor. It is difficult, therefore, to get a smooth finished floor if the underfloor has imperfections.

To counteract the effect of such imperfections, the use of what is called underlayment is recommended. Underlayment comes in three general types: plywood, hardboard and a special cement mixture which contains either asphalt or latex. While the cement underlayment is often used on wood floors which need some sort of leveling coat, it is especially effective in smoothing uneven concrete floors prior to the installation of the tiles.

An exterior-type plywood is used for underlayment in areas subject to extreme moisture; otherwise, regular interior-type underlayment is satisfactory. This type of plywood has one good side and one rough side. The good side should be face up when the nailing is done. Use ring-grooved or ring-barbed or screw underlayment nails. Your dealer will assist you in making your choice. The nails should be driven in at intervals of not more than six inches from the center of the panel and at intervals of three inches along the edges. The line of nailing at the edges should be about three-eighths of an inch in. There should be a tiny space between the panel joints to allow for expansion. One way to do this easily is to use the nails are driven flush with the surface or slightly below the surface.

Nailing with hardboard underlayment is the same as with plywood. In both cases, the floors should be swept clean after the installation of the underlayment. The plywood or hardboard should be one-quarter of an inch thick in panels three feet by four feet, four by four, or four by eight. The smaller panels are easier for one person to handle.

The cement leveling underlayment is applied with a steel trowel. It must be allowed to dry overnight before laying the tiles. Since many types of resilient tiles can not be successfully placed over a concrete base, be sure to ask your dealer about this if you plan to make an installation of this kind. Where the tiles are to be put down on the concrete slab of a new house, it is important that the concrete be allowed to "cure" thoroughly. This usually takes about 30 days after the slabs have been installed.

In spreading the adhesive for the resilient flooring, keep an eye out for pebbles, nails or other material that might otherwise go unnoticed and damage the tile.

Give Thought To Selection Of Floor Tile

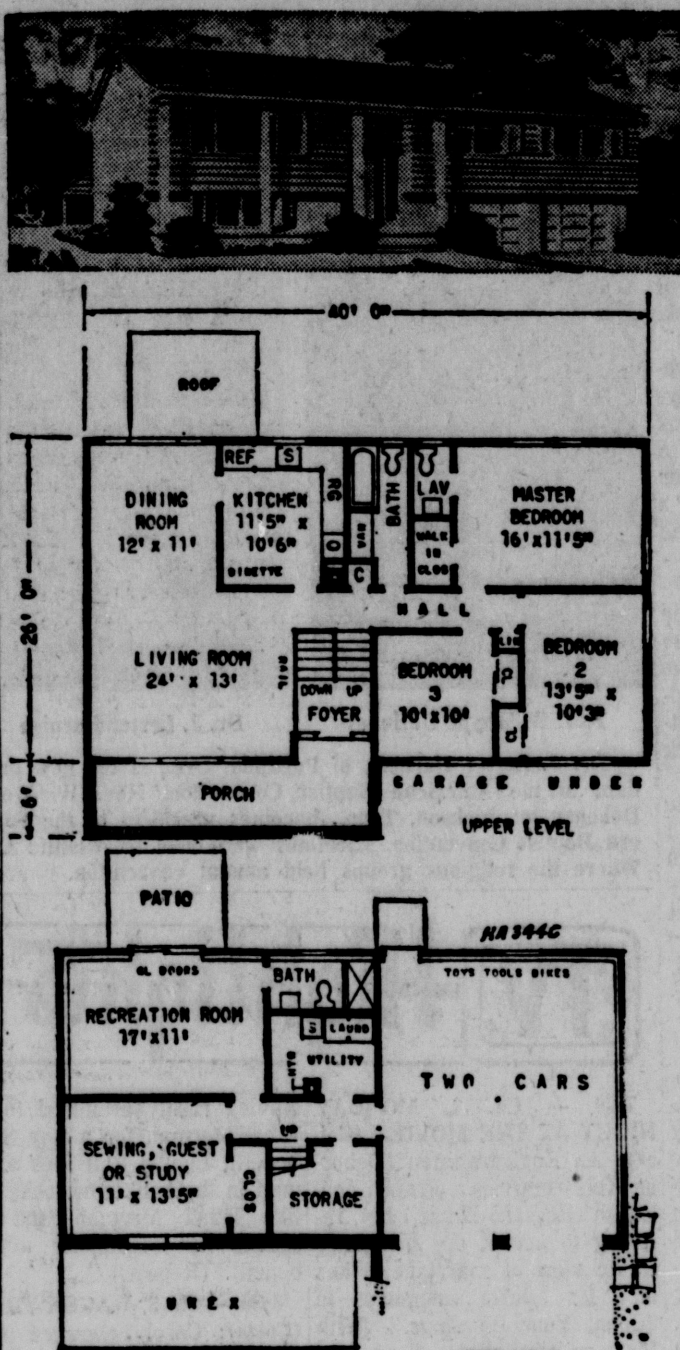

Proper installation of floor tiles is more a matter of care and patience than it is of skill. Putting down one little square of tile after another is not too far away from a child's pastime of playing with blocks. The strong popularity of floor tiles in recent years probably has been due as much to the comparatively easy method of installation as to anything else.

In each category of tiles, there is a considerable price range, depending on the colors and designs. Black tiles usually are the cheapest. Dark colors are next in line, with the prices going up as the tiles get lighter. By combining two or more colors, some striking effects can be achieved.

The usual practice of the do-it-yourselfer is to select one set of dark tiles and one of light, alternating the squares as they are laid on the floor. This is an effective method and easy to do. But it would be a good idea to run through some of the catalogues put out by the tile manufacturers to get ideas for different designs than the common alternate - tile layout.

In making a selection of colors, it is well to remember certain fundamentals which affect not only the atmosphere of the room but the size as well. Light colors will make a small room appear larger—and, believe it or not, will make a large room appear smaller. Dark colors diminish space in small rooms and tend to increase the size of large rooms. Greens and blues are cool colors and give brightly-lighted rooms a restful air. Shades of reds, yellows and pinks make sunless rooms warmer and friendlier.

As for designs, do not let them become too cluttered with colors. Use simple designs in small rooms. What are known as "active" and "busy" designs should be reserved for recreation rooms or children's rooms. Quiet, subtle designs are best for dining and living rooms

RAISED RANCH PLAN, HA344C, highlighted by a Colonial exterior, offers a six-room living level. The lower level includes two more rooms and a stall shower bathroom, plus two-car garage. A lavatory for the master bedroom is another plus. Architect is Lester Cohen, Room 704, 48 W. 48 St., New York, N.Y., 10036. The plan has 1,236 square feet on the living level.

Laminated Plastics Increase In Favor With Contractors

BY ANDY LANG

New building materials appear on the market with such frequency these days that it is almost impossible to keep track of them.

One way not to fall too far behind in mentally cataloging new products and different applications of old ones is by attending as many public and exhibitions as possible. We've been doing just that in recent months, our most recent visit being to the displays of building products at the New York World's Fair.

An especially noticeable feature of many of the attractive room layouts at the various pavilions has been the increasing variety of uses of laminated plastic. Once used mostly as a surfacing for coffee tables, refreshment bars and countertops, this material is moving into every room in the house and, in some cases, outdoors. One of the displays we saw showed laminated plastic used on the walls and virtually all other surfaces in a boy's bedroom, including a two-tiered bunk.

OTHER TYPES OF PLASTIC also are playing important roles in new product developments both from a functional and decorative point of view. Acrylic color coatings are being used by a number of manufacturers. Such coatings are applied to asbestos cement panels for use on curtain and interior walls. Storm windows and doors feature bonded resilient acrylic finishes to offset cracking, fading, and corroding.

One company is using a plastic for its aluminum siding. Another features a finish of colored plastic blended with ceramics on a "self-cleaning" siding. The solid polyvinyl chloride siding of still another manufacturer has color all the way through.

THERE ARE WEATHER-seals woven from tough polypropylene fibers, epoxy coatings for use over concrete and masonry and many surfacings that add durability, density and appearance to oldline materials. Many large companies are offering complete room additions, custom built at the factory for assembly on the job to needed specifications. The tendency is to make it easier for the homeowner to improve his residence by dealing with a single remodeling contractor or by using do-it-yourself materials which can be installed quickly and easily.

Homeowner Shouldn't Scoff At Minor Improvements

What can you do to improve your house while you wait for the money tree to bloom?

That's the attitude to take, rather than wishing for something you can't afford right now. Rejoice that you can afford another small improvement that can add to the family happiness and value of your house.

There is always room for one small plan when you own a house and even if you rent one. It's half the fun of running your own little estate.

Take a good, broad look at things around you and decide which project can be worked in to your budget right now. Patio? Porch? Swimming Pool?

The improvement you can afford this year may merely be an awning over an open porch or deck. Don't scoff. It may be the best hundred-or-so dollars you've spent in years. An awning can transform an outdoor extension of the house into an intimate, cozy thing. It's as if the house spread out its arms to bring the outdoors into the fold.

WHAT OTHER ASSETS DO you have on hand that may be improved with the little money you have?

An interesting or large tree, even if it is some distance from the house, can be the base of a patio, offering its outstretched limbs as shade. Properly landscaped with flower borders, this can be a spot that is truly enjoyable. The floor can be gravel or granite chips or even offers great possibilities for shady hours and even for sun bathing, although the aim should be to build the outdoor patio where there is some sort of shelter from sun and sudden showers.

CARPORTS ARE OFTEN converted into patios because there is an overhang above that forms the beginning of a roof so that it can be laced with heavy vines until plans for a more permanent structure are complete.

People living on hilltops need not forego a patio because the ground slopes away sharply. Some of the most interesting patios and terraces may be built where the ground slopes away. Even some distance from the house, the ground may be terraced by erecting a cinder block wall in a free form shape, rectangle or what have you, filling in the area, and outlining it once it is level with a brick or stone wall or a fence that is in keeping with others on the property. Shrubs may then be planted to give the area additional interest and statuary and bird baths can give it character.

A VERY INEXPENSIVE patio may be built in stages from a poured concrete first - year project. An ideal place for this is between the house and garage, particularly if there are doors on both sides. The second year an awning may be added, or if the plan is to enclose it eventually so that it is useful in winter also, a window-screen arrangement may be the best yet.

Slate, flagstone, granite chips, gravel and brick make good floorings, and the choice often depends on where it is to be used. Granite and gravel will hug even the most irregular land, making it less expensive than other flooring, but it needs some sort of edging as heavy rains will wash it away.

IF THE DO-IT-YOURSELFER is to put down the patio floor, he should get directions for his product from the manufacturer. Soil must be dug out and sand put in for some floorings. A drainage plan is necessary and a pattern must be worked out. The design should be put on paper first for best results.

We should evaluate everything before making the first move, and that includes working out the site of the patio or terrace so that it is not too windy, too buggy, too sunny or too shady. If the proper restraint is exercised so we do not become so ambitious that the project can't be completed for lack of time or money, this should be a painless experiment whether it is done by a do-it-yourselfer or the experts. We should know where we are going and how much it will cost before we start.

Underground Home Equipped With Patio on Display at Fair

Think about this for a minute:

A 10-room home that requires no exterior painting, no roof repairing, no changing of screens and storm windows and no worrying about damage from high winds.

There is just such a place on the grounds of the New York World's Fair — but you wouldn't know about it if it weren't for a huge sign telling you so. For this is an underground home, complete with all modern conveniences, including, believe it or not, an "outdoor" patio.

The underground home is the brainchild of Jay H. Swayze, who has lived with his wife and two daughters in a subterranean house in Plainview, Tex., for the last two years. Both his home and the one at the fair have a concrete shell set under more than three yards of earth. Because the home is underground, air conditioning is an absolute must, and this means fingertip control of humidity, pollen and dust as well as temperature. General Electric engineers who designed the air-conditioning equipment for the exhibit home discovered that it required only about half as much air conditioning as would be required for the same size house above the ground. However, extra equipment was installed in this case to take care of the extra body heat thrown off by the thousands of visitors passing through the house.

Does Swayze really believe people will want to live underground? He not only thinks they will; he predicts that within two years there will be builders of underground residences in every American community of 100,000 or more population.

Two-Story Homes Remain Highly Popular With Public

Despite the introduction of many new home plans since World War II, two-story houses continue to be highly popular throughout the United States, says the Institute of Home Designers.

It points out that the convenience, economy of construction, maximum of space per dollar, and suitability for a wide variety of building plots, all help to keep the standard two-story designs high in public preference.

"The experience of the past twenty years shows that there was a logical reason for pre-war houses to be built as they were, and that the day-by-day living experiences of millions of people which went into the making of those houses cannot be discarded lightly," it says.

"TWO-STORY DESIGNS offer definite advantages. The two-story house is often favored by young families with small children, because it provides a definite separation between the living and sleeping areas and enables all the family to sleep on one floor. The two-story house is also favored by older couples who often seek more living space than can be provided by a one-story house on an ordinary building plot.

"In either event, home-owners prefer to get maximum living space for each dollar spent, especially if they have a full basement which provides highly-desirable storage, workshop and laundry space, and a sizable area for family recreation. "Just as time-tested designs continue to be tops in popularity, many older features of houses continue to be approved by modern home-owners.

AMONG THESE features are the clothes chutes which enable housewives to send soiled clothing, sheets and bed and table linens down to the basement laundry areas; the wood-burning fireplace which provides cheer and warmth on cold days; the outside direct exit from the basement to the outdoors, covered with a durable metal hatchway, which is water-tight and intruder-proof; and the pantry area in or near the kitchen for the storage of staples and canned goods.

"The need for the hatchway and pantry is in fact greater today than ever before," the institute comments.

"The increase in leisure time has made basement recreation rooms and workshop areas more desirable than ever, and the value of these in turn is doubled by a separate exit from the basement to the outdoors, covered by its own protective hatchway over the steps.

The pantry also is more necessary because modern housewives often do a week's shopping at one time. They require more storage space for their food stuffs than city dwellers needed a generation ago when housewives shopped at least several times a week."

HIT VIET NAM COVERAGE
ASHTABUA, Ohio (AP) — Because the press has overemphasized U. S. setbacks in the Viet Nam war, Rep. Frances P. Bolton says the American public does not have a clear picture of the situation.

The American public mistakenly thinks the whole anti-communist effort in Viet Nam "has gone to pot," Mrs. Bolton told an honors convocation at the Ashtabula Center of Kent State University Sunday. The record showed that only one in 10 sorties against the enemy failed, and it is news of the one failure that the press sends back, said the ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Sometimes I think you print things just to get a rise out of people. Right now I'm so burned up I can hardly see this paper. You told a grandmother who said she enjoyed every minute of raising her four children that she had a very poor memory.

Are you a mind reader? Maybe she DID enjoy every minute of it. Where do you get off telling her she didn't?

We have four children and the fifth is expected any day. I can't wait till that baby gets here. Our youngest is a 2-year-old little lady and it will be wonderful to have an infant in the house again.

Each stage of raising children is fun and every child is different. I have enjoyed every minute of being a parent and now you can call me a liar, too.

—DAVENPORT DAD.

Dear Dad!! Well, I admit you had me fooled for a minute. Your testimonial for motherhood is the first I've ever received from a father. How marvelous that you have enjoyed every minute of being a parent! And now, may I hear from your wife?

No Ringer

Dear Ann: Larry and I are going to be married in September. I want him to wear a wedding ring because my Dad always wore one and I love the way a wedding ring looks on a man's hand.

Larry does not want to wear a wedding ring. He says it means nothing. Furthermore, he insists that down at the office where he works the men who wear wedding rings, run around the most and act the least married.

Larry has observed, too, that the women around the office think wedding rings on men are sexy and challenging. They actually pick these men as targets. I don't want to make a big flap over this but we both would like your views. Why do YOU think some men wear wedding rings?—24-CARAT QUESTION.

Dear 24 Carat: I believe the men who wear wedding rings do so because their wives want them to.

Unless this means a great deal to you, give up, honey. It's apparent your guy will continue to fight it.

Two-Time Loser

Dear Ann: From time to time you have had letters in your column from kids who are disgusted because they work hard at their studies and don't do as well as the kids who cheat.

In our school the kids don't have to cheat to get good grades. All they have to do is butter up the teachers. I know three girls who don't know an isosceles triangle from a dunce cap but they get "B's" because the teacher can put his arms around them while he is explaining things.

The Spanish teacher is an old maid with a weakness for football players. One kid whose Spanish vocabulary consists of "Si, Senor" told me he is going to get a "C" for the semester. He was out of town with the team when they took finals last semester so the teacher gave him an oral quiz and he made a "B."

I wish you'd print this letter and some advice to a hard-working student who wonders if it's worth it. —GIBRALTAR.

Dear Gibraltar: A pleasant personality is an effective lubricant for the machinery of human relations, not only in school but in the business world. There is no substitute, however, for perspiration combined with a little midnight oil.

You sound like a kid who can't make it either way. I suggest you smile a little more — both at the teachers and the textbooks.

Columbiana's Ward Leads District At State Meet

Garners 440,
Is 2nd Twice

Clippers Finish 3rd;
Dunbar Retains Title

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

Columbiana's sensational sprint star Jim Ward took the 440-yard dash and placed second in the 100 and 220-yard dashes to score most of the Clippers' 15 points in the state track and field meet at Columbus Saturday.

Dayton Dunbar, behind the three firsts of Craig Wallace, swept to its second straight Class AA title with 18 points. Cleveland Glenville followed with 17, and the Clippers were next.

In the Class A division, Fairport Harbor took top honors with 21 points. Warren Market tied for fourth with 10 markers.

Wallace set a blistering pace in the 100-yard dash to equal the national record of 9.4 seconds set by Jesse Owens in 1933. Owens' state record is 9.6.

THE MARK WAS NOT allowed for the Dayton Dunbar star because of an 8-mile per hour wind. No new record in a sprint (100-220), hurdle race or broad jump is valid if there is a tailwind of more than 4.473 miles per hour.

Ward of Columbiana was second to Wallace in 9.6 and George Trammel of Columbus Central was third in 9.61.

The Clippers' ace outlasted the field in the quarter-mile race as he pulled out in front at the start and stayed there to the finish in 48.3 seconds.

Wallace came back later to beat Ward by about a step in the 220-yard dash in 21.4.

The Dayton Dunbar athlete then took the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet, 2 1/4 inches, which was only an inch off Jesse Owens' record established in 1933.

Fred Gosney of the Clippers gave his team a point when he took fifth in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Prior to this event, a hard rain damped the track at the huge Ohio State University stadium. Gosney had pulled up to third, but going over the fourth hurdle he slipped a little and was not able to regain his speedy stride.

SALEM'S MILE relay team finished in 3:14 and failed to qualify for the finals. Reed Wilson, Tom Hutson, Dave Coy, and Tim Hutson were members of the Quakers' unit.

Of the eight squads in the finals, Cleveland East Tech had the slowest time of 3:26. Cleveland John Marshall won the race in 3:21.6.

John Tarleton, Salem's distance star, sustained a blister on his foot at the meet, and ran his mile in 4:47. Rickey Poole of Dayton Jefferson took the distance race in the record time of 4:19.6. Jim Watts of Cleveland Brush had set the mark of 4:21.6 last year.

Poole, with a great finish, also set a record in the 880-yard run in 1:55.7. He eclipsed the old standard of 1:56.9 set by Steve Orfanedes of Canton McKinley in 1945.

Other winners in Class AA competition and their times or distances included Tom Gibson of Cleveland St. Joseph, who hurled the shot put 60 feet, 7 1/4 inches. The effort was a new mark, bettering the old standard of 60 feet, 3/4 inches set by Martin Eisner of Cleveland Heights last year.

In this event Paul D'Eramo of Fitch was second, and William Lenkaitis of Youngstown South was third.

Cornelius Lindsey of Cincinnati Withrow took the high jump as he cleared 6 feet, 4 1/4 inches. Cleveland Glenville was first in the 880-yard relay.

RON WILLIAMS of Akron Kenmore took the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.4. Gosney was caught in 20.3. The Kenmore ace also won the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.1. Youngstown South's Pete Richardson was fourth in 14.6.

John Linta of Mansfield Malabar cleared 14 feet, 5 1/2 inches to set a record in the pole vault. Jim Showers of Marion had set the previous mark of 13 feet, 10 1/2 inches a year ago.

In Class A, Warren Market's Roy Frazier got home in 9.8 for the century only to have what appeared to be a new record erased because of the wind. The athlete, only a junior, was second in the 220-yard dash in 22.7.

Legonia's Doug Hauer, also a junior, was timed in 2:10 in his heat of the 880-yard run and failed to place for the finals.

2 Golfers Tie For 2nd At 271

Souchak Fires 270 For Memphis Title

By VAN SAVELL
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS (AP)—When Mike Souchak enters a golf tournament he figures to win if he attacks the par 5 holes and does well.

The former Duke Football player fired a 69 Sunday and slipped past three other golfers for a one-stroke victory in the $50,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament with a 10-under-par 270 total.

Souchak noted his four rounds over the Colonial Country Club course and his performances on the par 5 holes, 13, 16 and 18. He birdied each of those four times except No. 16 the first round.

"I think that's what it takes to win—attack the par 5s, do well and take home first place money," Souchak clinched his victory, and $7,500, with a birdie putt on the final hole from four feet after an exploding sand shot hit only three inches from the pin and rolled past.

Billy Casper and Tommy Jacobs came in second with 271. Six golfers—Bob Rosburg, Art Wall Jr., Mason Rudolph, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer — were tied for fourth with 272.

Going into the 18th hole, Littler, Casper and Jacobs were tied with Souchak with nine under par. Each had birdies on the par 5 No. 16 and pars on the short 17th hole. Littler bogied 18 after having fairway trouble and Jacobs and Casper barely

Pirates Wallop Giants Twice; Reds Take Pair

Torre's Batting Rampage Leads Braves To Doubleheader Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Boy, are you fat!" Warren Spahn exclaimed nine years ago when Joe Torre first appeared in a Milwaukee dressing room, accompanied by big brother Frank, then the Braves' regular first baseman.

Spahn didn't get an argument — the younger Torre, at 15, weighed 240 pounds—but today the Braves' pitching ace would be the first to admit that the fattest thing about Joe is his .370 batting average.

On the other hand, if you had asked Bobby Bragan Sunday, after Torre's hitting rampage led the Braves to a 7-4, 10-0 doubleheader sweep of St. Louis, the Milwaukee manager would have told you that Joe is the fattest commodity in the game.

"He's the most valuable piece of baseball property today," Bragan said, following Torre's 7-for-10 spree that lifted him from seventh to third position in the National League batting derby. "I wouldn't trade him for anybody, not even Willie Mays, because I'd be giving up eight years."

Torre's current streak lends weight to Bragan's claim. The catcher-first baseman, whose three-week spring holdout led both leagues, has hit at a .418 clip since May 1, raising his average 79 points from .291. He hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the month Sunday for a total of 9—five less than his 1963 output.

While Milwaukee closed to quelled a Philadelphia threat in the seventh inning and the Dodgers whipped the Phillies for the first time in seven meetings.

Joe Moeller, the winner, allowed only one hit through the first six innings but faltered in the seventh when Johnny Callison led off with a single and Wes Covington followed with a double. Koufax retired the next three batters and gave up one hit the rest of the way.

Rookie Wes Parker cracked two doubles and a triple to pace the Dodgers' attack.

Houston right-hander Bob Bruce ran his record to 6-1, firing a four-hitter and striking out 10 Mets. Mike White drove in three runs with a first inning single and a double in the seventh.

The Brooklyn native has 54 hits, second in the league, and is third in RBI.

Pittsburgh southpaw Bob Veale stopped San Francisco on two hits and fanned seven Giants in the opener for his fourth victory. Rookie right-hander Tom Butters drove in three Pirate runs in the second game and recorded his first major league victory with help from relievers Bob Priddy and Al McBean.

Mays had one hit in five at-bats and his batting average fell from .400 to .393.

Chicago's Billy Williams regained the top spot, going 3-for-6 to climb from .394 to .396, but the Cubs succumbed to Bill Henry's clutch relief pitching in the opener and an eight-run Cincinnati inning in the finale.

Henry halted Chicago's two-run ninth inning rally to save the victory for Jim Toole. Tommy Harper and Vada Pinson each hit safely twice in the Reds' third inning second-game outburst.

Koufax, making his first relief appearance since 1962,

Charlotte, N. C. (AP) — a 1-2 sweep in the race. Petty's won, Richard, finished second, four laps back, after blowing a tire and burning ignition wires. Richard, winner of this year's Daytona 500, earned $11,460.

Roberts, of Daytona Beach, Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., and Ned Jarrett of Camden, S.C., were involved in the worst of several wrecks that sidelined other top names such as Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach.

Misfortune befell Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., who was seeking his seventh major victory in a row this season. He led 63 laps but was forced to make 11 pit stops and wound up fourth behind Mercury-driving Rex White of Spartanburg, S.C.

Indians At New York Tuesday

Tigers Knock Off Tribe 7-5, Kaline Hits Homer, 2 Singles

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gabe Paul, front office boss of the Cleveland Indians, makes no secret of the fact he would love to see Al Kaline in an Indian uniform—although he has no real hope of getting the talented Detroit outfielder.

After what Kaline did to the Indians Sunday, it is easy to see why the Tribe casts covetous eyes in his direction.

The 29-year-old Kaline rapped a two-run homer in the first inning and hit two singles during scoring rallies to boost the Tigers to a 7-5 victory in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game was rained out.

Furthermore, Kaline turned in three fine fielding plays to hold the Indians after the Tigers rolled up a 7-2 margin.

The outfielder's running catch of a fly ball hit by Max Alvis with one man on base ended a sixth-inning threat. In the seventh, Kaline made a beautiful play on a line drive by Tito Francona. He cut off the drive with a backhand stop and, throwing off balance, whipped the all to second base, holding Tito to a single.

Kaline made another fine catch to rob Fred Whitfield of a hit in the eighth. Alvis led off with a single, and Bob Chance walked, so there were two on and none out when Whitfield hit his long drive to right center. The next man up, John Romano, hit into a double play.

"Kaline is the complete ball player," said Paul. "You can see what a player of his caliber can do for a team."

Cleveland field manager George Strickland was equally enthusiastic. Noting that Kaline is always hustling, Strickland remarked: "He'd be a pleasure to watch if he wasn't doing it to us."

Strickland said Jim Grant will pitch Tuesday night when the Indians go to New York for two games. Lefty Jack Kralick is expected to face the Yankees Wednesday night. Opposing them will be two southpaws, Whitey Ford and Al Downing.

Stuart's Home Runs Give Boston Twin Bill Sweep; Orioles Win Two

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dick Stuart, whose glove sometimes beats Boston, now has come close to whipping the Red Sox with his bat.

The Boston slugger's bat put Kansas City ahead of a home run in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday.

Then Stuart clouted a grand slam home run for a 6-2 victory. He came back with a two-run homer that gave Boston a 3-1 triumph in the second game. The home run that put the Athletics into a 2-1 lead actually was hit by Jim Gentile, who had borrowed one of Stuart's bats.

The big first baseman's grand slam off Moe Drabowsky in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie. It was his first homer since April 28 when he also smashed a grand slam. He also connected with a man aboard in the fourth inning of the nightcap, giving him four this season.

Stuart's average is only .230, but he has 28 runs batted in, third best in the American League. Last year he hit 42 homers and drove in 118 runs.

Of five scheduled doubleheaders in the AL, Baltimore had the only other sweep, beating Minnesota 2-0 and 7-6. Chicago downed Washington, then lost 3-0 while New York defeated Los Angeles 8-5 after dropping a 3-0 decision. Detroit got by Cleveland 7-5. Rain washed out the second game.

Stuart's blast in the opener enabled Jack Lamabe, who came to Boston from Pittsburgh with the first baseman, to win his fifth game in six decisions. Rookie Ed Connolly won his first major league game in the nightcap with relief help from Bob Heffner and Dick Radatz.

The Orioles were on the verge of losing the second game when they struck for three runs in the ninth. Jerry Adair's homer, a walk, an infield hit and an error brought home the tying runs.

Then Luis Aparicio knocked in Jackie Brandt with a sacrifice fly.

Harmon Killebrew socked a two-run homer for the Twins in the eighth, tying the game 4-4, and Tony Oliva connected with one on in the ninth.

Robin Roberts set down the Twins on five hits in the opener, reducing his earned run average to 1.88 on a 2-2 record.

The White Sox had a five-game winning streak until Buster Narum limited them to six hits in the second game. The Senators gave him two runs in the first on singles by Don Blasingame, John Kennedy and Chuck Hinton and Don Lock's sacrifice fly.

Pinch hitter Floyd Robinson doubled with the bases loaded in the eighth, driving in two runs and bringing the White Sox from behind in the opener. J. C. Martin's sacrifice fly accounted for a third run in the inning. The Senators had taken a 4-3 lead in the eighth on Kennedy's single and Hinton's double.

Mickey Mantle sparked the Yankees to their second-game triumph after Dean Chance blanked them on three hits in the opener. Mantle homered in the second, then triggered a four-run rally in the sixth with a two-strike bunt. The Yankees trailed 5-2 going into the inning.

Ed Kirkpatrick hammered a two-run homer for the Angels in the second.

Los Angeles actually won the first game in the first inning. Billy Moran doubled home Lee Thomas and Bob Rodgers, then scored on a double by Tom Satriano.

Dave Wickersham received relief aid from Larry Sherry and became the first AL pitcher to win six games. The Tigers led 7-2 when the Indians struck in the seventh. Four singles scored two runs and brought on Sherry, who ended the threat after another run scored.

Old Dutch, Fernengel's Triumph

Hughes' Grand Slam Homer Paces Moose To 16-8 Victory

A grand-slam home run by catcher Jim Hughes in the second inning was the highlight of a slugfest as Salem Moose whipped Willy's Bait Shop 16-8 in City (fast-pitch) Softball League action at Kelly Field Saturday.

Bob Carbaugh tossed a two-hitter and his teammates gave solid support as Old Dutch handed Salem Merchants its first loss of the campaign 8-1.

Ron Shaffer drove in six runs with a triple and double to lead Fernengel's to a 9-7 decision over Charley's Boats. For the Moose, it was their first win of the campaign after two straight losses. Willy's is 0-2.

LEADING ONLY 7-4, the winners exploded for seven runs in the fifth, then iced the contest with two markers in the sixth, which included a home run by Bill Pauline.

Hughes also had a double and single, scored three times himself, and finished with a total of five RBI. Paul Paster, John Chaffin, and Jim Foreman each had two hits for the Moose. Stan O'Day was the winning pitcher.

John Abel and Barry Callison collected triples in Willy's four-run third inning. John Sprowl and Abel led the losers with two hits apiece. Ken Cranston was the losing hurler.

Old Dutch (2-0) broke a 1-1 tie in the fourth as Carbaugh led off with a single, advanced to second on a wild pitch, went to third on a sacrifice, and scored on a double by Jim Stonemetz.

Jim Barnes socked a two-run home run in the fifth frame for Old Dutch.

MORRISON TALLIED the Merchants' only run in the initial inning. He led off with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice, and scored on an error. Joe Carmelo got the only other hit for the losers in the fifth.

Carbaugh struck out 13 batters and walked four. Don Fife was the losing pitcher.

Fernengel's evened its record at 1-1. Charley's is also the same.

The winners put together two big innings, scoring five runs in the fifth, and seven in the seventh. Charley's took a 4-0 lead in the first frame, and added two more markers in the seventh.

"Lefty" Schmid led Fernengel's with three hits. Glenn Mercer was the winning pitcher.

Dave Drakulich collected two singles to pace Charley's. Henry Miller was the losing hurler.

Greer Cops Feature Race At Canfield

Bob Greer of Hubbard and Jim Gillespie of Warren crashed the winner's circle for the first time this season in Saturday night's auto racing action at Canfield Speedway before 4,726 fans.

Greer went into the front on the 16th lap and was never threatened. Phil Wertz of Canfield was third and Nook Walters of Niles 4th.

Gillespie started 6th in the 20-car amateur field and took the lead from Bud Comm of Boardman on the 14th lap. Gary Cross of Niles grabbed a brief lead but Gillespie came through in the final lap to win. Cross placed second.

Jimmy Clark Cops Dutch Grand Prix

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If Scot Jimmy Clark dominates the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile Auto Race Saturday as he did the 10-mile time trials, he will start lapping the field about 15 minutes after the start.

While Clark was winning the Dutch Grand Prix Sunday in a campaign to repeat as world road racing champion, the fourth and final session of qualifications was run off at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 2 1/2-mile oval. It mostly was an exercise in futility.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

It will only be a few more days now till my brother Bob and I are on our way for our trip in a trailer. We had plans to go to Alaska but because of the earthquake we decided to save that to some later date.

We are going to tour the west with the intentions of getting ideas which will help to make the Country Store a more interesting place for those who visit here.
